

Data Dictionary for Spending and Revenue

The San Francisco Controller's Office maintains a database of spending and revenue data sourced from it's citywide financial system. This data is presented on the Spending and Revenue report hosted at <http://openbook.sfgov.org>, and is also available in this dataset in CSV format. New data is added on a weekly basis, and is available from fiscal year 2000 forward.

Date Created: 03/20/2015

Field Name	Data Type	Definition	Notes (optional)
Fiscal Year	Plain Text	An accounting period of 12 months. The City and County of San Francisco operates on a fiscal year that begins on July 1 and ends on June 30 the following year. The Fiscal Year ending June 30, 2012 is represented as FY2011-2012.
Revenue or Spending	Plain Text	Revenue or Spending
Related Gov't Units	Plain Text	In SFOpenBook, these are fiduciary funds and component units that are included in the City's financial statements but are different in nature from the other funds and organizations in City government. Fiduciary Funds include all Trust and Agency Funds that account for assets held by the City as a trustee or as an agency for individuals or other governmental units.
Organization Group Code	Plain Text	Org Group is a group of Departments. For example, the Public Protection Org Group includes departments such as the Police, Fire, Adult Probation, District Attorney, and Sheriff.
Organization Group	Plain Text	Org Group is a group of Departments. For example, the Public Protection Org Group includes departments such as the Police, Fire, Adult Probation, District Attorney, and Sheriff.
Department Code	Plain Text	Departments are the primary organizational unit used by the City and County of San Francisco. Examples include Recreation and Parks, Public Works, and the Police Department.

Field Name	Data Type	Definition	Notes (optional)
Department Code	Plain Text	Departments are the primary organizational unit used by the City and County of San Francisco. Examples include Recreation and Parks, Public Works, and the Police Department.
Program Code	Plain Text	A program identifies the services a department provides. For example, the Police Department has programs for Patrol, Investigations, and Administration.
Program	Plain Text	A program identifies the services a department provides. For example, the Police Department has programs for Patrol, Investigations, and Administration.
Character Code	Plain Text	In the type hierarchy, Character is the highest level. For example, salaries, benefits, contractual services, and materials & supplies are recorded as different Characters.
Character	Plain Text	In the type hierarchy, Character is the highest level. For example, salaries, benefits, contractual services, and materials & supplies are recorded as different Characters.
Object Code	Plain Text	In the type hierarchy, Object is the middle level. For example, within the Salaries Character, Objects differentiate between Permanent Salaries, Temporary Salaries, and Overtime pay.
Object	Plain Text	In the type hierarchy, Object is the middle level. For example, within the Salaries Character, Objects differentiate between Permanent Salaries, Temporary Salaries, and Overtime pay.
Sub-object Code	Plain Text	In the type hierarchy, Sub-object is the lowest level of detail. For instance, within the Overtime Object, Sub-object segregates overtime for nurses from overtime for police officers and fire fighters (known as uniformed staff).
Sub-object	Plain Text	In the type hierarchy, Sub-object is the lowest level of detail. For instance, within the Overtime Object, Sub-object segregates overtime for nurses from overtime for police officers and fire fighters (known as uniformed staff).
Fund Type Code	Plain Text	In the Fund hierarchy, Fund Type is the highest level, and is used to group Funds according to governmental accounting standards.
Fund Type	Plain Text	In the Fund hierarchy, Fund Type is the highest level, and is used to group Funds according to governmental accounting standards.

[illegible]